PROFILE

State Biologist & Director, Kansas Biological Survey and Kansas Applied Remote Sensing Program, University of Kansas (80% FTE). Administers resources of non-regulatory state agency to provide scientific expertise and support to Kansas agencies and the Kansas Legislature. Develops, implements, and conducts biological and interdisciplinary research programs on ecological and environmental issues important to the State of Kansas.

Professor, Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology (10% FTE) and Environmental Studies Program (10% FTE). Teaches and advises undergraduate and graduate students in the Division of Biological Sciences and the Environmental Studies Program, University of Kansas.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Current

The University of Kansas Lawrence, KS

Kansas Biological Survey

State Biologist, Director, 1983-present

- Conceives, develops, and oversees mission-oriented research programs
- Administers budget in excess of $4.3 million annually
- Provides leadership for and supervision of 40 scientists (19 Ph.D.s, 21 professionals), 25 graduate research assistants, and 3 administrative staff
- Scientific leadership and research development focuses on aquatic research, natural and scientific areas, and applications of remote sensing and geographic information systems for agriculture, wildlife, and natural resources management
- Develops scientific and financial partnerships with private corporations to conduct research and commercialize new products

Kansas Applied Remote Sensing Program

Director, 1983-present

- Develops and directs interdisciplinary research on the applications of satellite remote sensing and geographic information systems technology

University of Kansas Field Station and Ecological Reserves (KSR)

Director, 1999-present

- Provides leadership for the development of interdisciplinary ecological research and educational opportunities at the field station located 10 miles north of campus
- Oversees the day-to-day operations of KSR where more than 60 faculty, staff, and students conduct research

Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Professor, 2000-present

- Teaches ecosystem management, environmental impact assessment, and indicators of ecological change
- Advises undergraduate and graduate students in biology, ecology, and environmental studies

Program Director, Ecology and Population Biology, 2005-present

- Provides leadership and coordination for the faculty in the departmental unit in planning, curriculum review, and faculty recruitment
- Serves on the Departmental Executive Committee as the unit representative

OTHER PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

NASA Great Plains Regional Earth Science Applications Center (RESAC)

Lawrence, KS

1999-2003

Director and Principal Investigator, 1999-2003

- Provides scientific leadership for the development of remote sensing applications research addressing issues of global climate change, agricultural and grassland productivity, and wildlife management
- Facilitates technology transfer to the public and private sectors
- Guides and stimulates the development of new commercial remote sensing products in response to end user needs

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

Washington, DC

1991-1994 Intergovernmental Personnel Agreement (IPA) Leave

Office of Research and Development

Director, Environmental Monitoring and Assessment Program (EMAP)

- Senior Executive Service (SES-4)
- Administered $42,000,000 annual budget
- Supervised staff of 18 national directors and coordinators, as well as 65 employees in 9 national laboratories

- Initiated strategic planning and budgeting process for long-term monitoring and assessment
- Coordinated scientific peer reviews and planned new research initiative
- Co-developed new long-term ecological research strategy
- Reorganized and refocused landscape ecology/characterization program

1998 Consultant

Chairperson, National Search Committee for Director, Environmental Sciences Division, National Exposure Research Laboratory, U.S. EPA, Las Vegas.

2001 Consultant

Chairperson, Scientific Peer Review Panel, Research Programs of the Ecological Exposure Research Division, National Exposure Research Laboratory, U.S. EPA, Cincinnati.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration
Washington, DC

NASA Earth Science Enterprise

Lead Reviewer

- 1999 Remote Sensing Applications Research in Agriculture, Forestry, and Range Resources Management (AGNRA) Scientific Review Panel

The University of Kansas

- Professor, 2000-present
- Associate Professor, 1988-2000
- Assistant Professor, 1982-1988

Environmental Studies Program

- Director, 1982-1985; Advisory board, 1990-present

Kansas Applied Remote Sensing Program

- Associate Director, 1980-1983
- Project Coordinator, 1975-1980

Department of Entomology and Department of Geography

- Courtesy Professor, Entomology, 1976-2000
- Courtesy Professor, Geography, 1976-present

HONORS AND AWARDS

Wally and Marie Steeples Faculty Award for Outstanding Service to the People of Kansas, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, University of Kansas, 1999.
Outstanding Service Award, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, 1991-1994.
Outstanding Performance Certificate of Recognition, State of Kansas, 1987.
Faculty Summer Institute, Argonne National Laboratory, 1979.

Dr. Raymond H. Beamer Memorial Award, University of Kansas, 1974.
Society of Sigma Xi, 1974.
Graduate School Research Award, University of Kansas, 1973.
Ecology and Evolutionary Biology Award, University of Kansas, 1971.
Systematic Biology Research Award, University of Kansas, 1971.
National Science Foundation Predoctoral Traineeship, 1967-1968.
Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, 1966.
Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia (National Honorary Music Society), 1964.
Merit Scholarship, College of Emporia, 1963-1967.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Applications of remote sensing and geographic information systems technology
- Community, ecosystem, and landscape ecology
Natural and anthropogenic changes in communities and ecosystems; spatial and temporal dimensions of change as an intellectual framework for the analysis of applied problems; human impacts on the environment and national biological diversity as they relate to habitat quality, land use change, and natural resource and ecosystem management; insect community ecology.

TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER INITIATIVES

One of my ongoing efforts has been the reorganization and development of research programs of the Kansas Biological Survey and the Kansas Applied Remote Sensing Program to address significant biological and ecological issues in Kansas. As part of this endeavor it became evident that the transfer of technology and the dissemination of the products of our research activities are of paramount importance. Some of the major accomplishments of these initiatives include:

- The first statewide land use/land cover digital database for the State of Kansas.
- A satellite mosaic of Kansas portraying natural vegetation and physiographic regions of the state.
- Development of a new private company, TerraMetrics, Inc., to provide services in the areas of aquatic ecology, including experimental ecosystem-level studies, traditional field work, and taxonomy; remote sensing and geographic information systems; and terrestrial ecology of Great Plains ecosystems, including field surveys, taxonomy, and wetland mitigation.
- The GreenReport[™], a new commercial satellite remote sensing product that provides near real-time crop and vegetation condition; prepared weekly and distributed through a network of more than 300,000 subscribers.
- The establishment of the NASA Great Plains Regional Earth Science Applications Center (Great Plains RESAC), to conduct research and stimulate the development of commercial remote sensing products. The Great Plains RESAC, one of seven regional NASA applications centers of excellence, resulted from a national competition.

- The formation of a new company, Agrimetrix, a joint venture of The Farm Journal (Philadelphia, PA), Strategic Weather Services (Wayne, PA), and TerraMetrics, Inc. (Lawrence, KS). Agrimetrix represents the convergence of satellite-based crop/soil sensing technology and reliable commercially proven long-range weather forecasts, creating an unprecedented understanding of the future impact of worldwide weather on all facets of agriculture and its supporting businesses.
- Currently in the patent and planning process, the development of another joint venture company, Aquametrix, to provide comprehensive strategic planning and remediation services for water resources management. Aquametrix represents the convergence of proven long-range weather forecasts, aquatic and remote sensing research data, and remediation technologies.
- The establishment in KBS of the Central Plains Center for BioAssessment, a U.S. EPA funded center to provide scientific expertise, collaboration on scientific studies, facilitate the exchange of information, and bring together scientists, government officials, and the public on issues of water quality.

GRANTS AND CONTRACTS

Research Grants and Contracts

Total Awards: 77 awards totaling $17,994,156; PI=$8,619,538; CO-PI=$9,374,618.

National Science Foundation EPSCoR Program. Understanding and Forecasting Ecological Change: Causes, Trajectories and Consequences of Environmental Change in the Central Plains. L. Krishtalka, E.A. Martinko, and V.S. Frost. 04/01/06-03/31/09. Total Support: $3,599,977.

Kansas Information Technology Office. Kansas Next-Generation Land Use/Land Cover Mapping Initiative. E.A. Martinko, M.E. Jakubauskas, and J.L. Whistler. 07/01/06-06/30/09. Total Support: $302,262.

Kansas Corporation Commission. Remote Sensing Research for Detection and Identification of Abandoned Oilfield Features. M.E. Jakubauskas and E.A. Martinko. 09/01/05-03/01/07. Total Support: $50,000.

Kansas State University/NSF EPSCoR. Forecasting Ecological Change in the Central Plains. E.A. Martinko. 04/01/06-03/31/07. Total Support: $42,865.

National Fish and Wildlife Foundation. Wetland and Wet Meadow Restoration on the Robinson Tract. E.A. Martinko, J. deNoyelles, and S. Campbell. 08/12/05-08/12/35. Total Support: $10,000.

Whistler, F. deNoyelles, and R.W. McColl, Co-P.I.s. 1997-1998. (This grant also listed in Grants and Contracts Section). Total Support: $363,200.

Satellite downlink, computer and related research equipment (included in various grants listed in Grants and Contracts Section). 1980-2000. $707,554.

State of Kansas

Through my coordination and administrative efforts, I secure baseline funding from the Kansas Legislature as an addition to the University of Kansas budget for the following programs:

Kansas Applied Remote Sensing Program. 1984-2006. $3,450,447.

Kansas Natural Heritage Program. 1988-2006. $5,522,880.

INTERNATIONAL ACTIVITIES

The Utilization of Remote Sensing in the Development of the Water Resources of Chihuahua, Mexico. Consultant to the government of Chihuahua, Mexico, July 1980.

Environmental Monitoring and Assessment: A Partnership of Research, Monitoring, and Assessment. Session Chairman and Invited Presentation, ECOINFORMA-92, 2nd International Congress and Exhibition on Environmental Information and Communication. Bayreuth, Germany, September 1992.

Perspectives from an Experimental Study of Habitat Fragmentation in an Agroecosystem. Participant and Co-author of paper read by G.R. Robinson, 13th Long Ashton International Symposium, Bristol, United Kingdom, September 1993.

Defining Ecosystem Health. Invited Participant and Rapporteur, NATO Advanced Research Workshop "Evaluating and Monitoring the Health of Large-Scale Ecosystems," Montebello, Quebec, Canada, October 1993.

Comprehensive National Environmental Monitoring and Assessment in the United States. Chairman, Expert Consultant, and Invited Presentation, United Nations Environmental Program Expert Consultation on "Chemical Issues Critical at the Global Level," Geneva, Switzerland, December 1993.

Toxic Chemical Priority Selection in the United States. Invited Presentation and Expert Consultant, United Nations Environment Program Expert Consultation on "Chemical Issues Critical at the Global Level," Geneva, Switzerland, January 1995.

The Applications of Remote Sensing and Geographic Information Systems Technology for the Management of Natural Resources in a Developing Country. Invited Presentation, Government of Zambia, Africa, September 1995.

International Programmatic Research Initiatives, Kansas Applied Remote Sensing (KARS) Program. Over the last four years, I have supported and participated in the development of a wide variety of international remote sensing initiatives with the following results:

- National Science Foundation funding for research in China and Mexico.
- ProCafe funding for biodiversity research in El Salvador.

- A Memorandum of Understanding with the Minister of Natural Resources and the Rector of the University of El Salvador.
- A Memorandum of Understanding with the University of Beijing, China.
- Two Memorandums of Understanding with the Inner Mongolia University, China.
- The only non-Zambian Cooperating Partner on the Committee for the Establishment of a National Remote Sensing Centre (NRSC) in Zambia.

INVITED PRESENTATIONS

Invited Presentations: 54

Martinko, E.A. The Robinson Farm: History and Contemporary Use. University Women's Club History Group, Lawrence, KS. February 2008.

Martinko, E.A. An Overview of Research in the Kansas Biological Survey. Breakfast Cosmopolitan Club, Lawrence, KS. December 2007.

Martinko, E.A. Preserving, Protecting, and Restoring Kansas Reservoirs: Reclaiming Lost Storage Capacity. Kansas Reservoir Summit, Lawrence, KS. October 2007.

Martinko, E.A. The Robinson Farm: History and Contemporary Use. "The Westerners," a Lawrence History Study Group, Lawrence, KS. September 2006.

Martinko, E.A. Spatial and Temporal Patterns of Insect Succession in Old-Field and Experimentally Fragmented Landscapes. Central States Entomological Society Annual Meeting, Lawrence, KS. April 2005.

Martinko, E.A. Wind Energy Development: Wildlife and Bird Interactions with Wind Farms. Wind and Prairie Task Force meeting, Topeka, KS. February 2004.
